Commissioner, Deputy and Chris,

Please find our report for today's date. POIB will continue our presence on the ground in Ottawa. The observations and interactions with participants are critical to understanding the mindset, motivation and intention of participants.

This assessment indicates the potential for public safety implications - even "potential" national security implications in a worst case scenario. I must stress that there is no intelligence or evidence of a criminal act of this nature currently.

I have spoken with colleagues in national security on this date and they concur.

This potential for worst case scenarios is based upon a deterioration in communication and resolution with participants - and organizers specifically.

I believe that, strategically, the biggest challenge will be an organic growth and continuance of this form of activity. This is a reality that organizers are calling for and they have significant support.

Pat
